RICHMOND, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, JANUARY 31, 1913

No. 5

Cutting Boulevard Subject of Council

Improvement of This Big Thoroughfare to Commence at Once.

Senator J. C. Owens was on hand Monday night as usual and presided over the city council. All present except Garrard, who was reported ill.

The city engineer presented plans and specifications for the first work in grading Cutting boulevard from Ashland avenue to Sixth. Proceedings having been started for this work numerous times, Councilman Follett requested that if there were any objections to resuming work, they be presented at once. The plans were adopted.

Bids for the improvement of 14th street with oil macadam and cement sidewalks were received, and read in open meeting. They were: L. L. Page, $12,779; G. W. Cushing, $13,607; J. V. Gilbraith, $13,214; Oakland Co., $14,226. Contract awarded to Page, the lowest bidder.

A petition for the opening of 9th street was referred to the city engineer and street committee.

The proceedings in regard to the tunnel and harbor were declared legal by Attorneys Goodfellow, Eels and Oric.

W. B. Trull reported proceedings in regard to the gates to be installed at Richmond avenue would be taken up by the head officials of the company.

The license committee reported progress in regard to hotels. Plans for the improvement of Ripley avenue were adopted.

Upon the motion of Willis, City Architect Ogborn's salary was increased to $125.

Councilman O. R. Ludewig recommended that a house be built for the equipment of No. 6, which includes wagon and team.

McDuff's motion that the old fire truck formerly used by No. 1 be placed on west side hill for emergencies. Referred.

Galbraith was given a 90-day extension on his contract for the improvement of 13th street.

Claims Allowed.

[NOTE: The Terminal publishes the claim list in full, and is the only newspaper that does so. The following list of claims is furnished by the city clerk, without any "eliminations" whatever. The taxpayers settle the bills. They should know what they are.]

Richmond Elks Entertain.

Fraternal Hall was the scene of great activity Monday night when No. 1251 got busy in entertaining guests from the various bay cities and initiating a number of promising "innocents" into the mysteries of this popular order. Among those who attended the ceremonies and who were honored with a fine banquet were District Deputy Grand Ruler Alexander Sheriffs of San Jose and Charles H. Robertson, well known in railroad circles. Those initiated were J. C. Owens, Clare D. Horner, G. E. French and F. P. Butterfield. The lodge is nearing the 200 mark, and with the completion of their magnificent building, will no doubt soon have 250 members at the present rate of increase.

North Richmond Is Becoming Center

Fine Streets, Modern Homes, High Ground and Attractive Land and Marine View.

The Truman tract in North Richmond, is about twelve minutes' walk from the postoffice on Sixth and Macdonald. The Sixth street car line will soon penetrate this section—in fact, it is within a few blocks of it now. The Truman company will soon sell all of these desirable residence lots. The property is convenient to the manufacturing industries, and will have exceptional car line accommodations.

It will only be a few months until all the North Richmond additions, including Wall's, Morsman & Keller's, and others, will be dotted with attractive homes. These lots are selling at reasonable prices now, and will no doubt increase in value 50 per cent within the year. The doubtful ones who say that property is too high in Richmond, have only to be referred to Los Angeles, with few manufacturing, for comparison. If values in property have attained such high figures there with nothing substantial back of them except blue sky, what will be the result in Richmond with its vast industries giving employment to thousands of workmen?

The future of Richmond is assured, and the northern portion of the city is making rapid strides as an industrial center.

Berkeley Woman Killed.

Mrs. W. D. Smith of Berkeley, formerly Miss Grace Williams of Byron, was instantly killed in an automobile accident on the Dublin road Sunday. In some manner the car in which she was riding with her husband and two friends overturned beneath the inverted machine. Her neck was broken, causing instant death. Her husband was seriously injured and may be a cripple for life. The other members of the party were slightly bruised. The remains of Mrs. Smith were removed to Pleasanton and later taken to her home in Berkeley and interred in Sunset cemetery.

Another Auto Fire Truck.

The eastside of Richmond is to have a big auto fire truck, to be stationed at No. 2 on Fifth street. The truck was ordered from Seagrave company and will be installed about February 20. The truck will have all the 1913 improvements. The horses at No. 2 will be transferred to one of the outlying districts of the city for service. Richmond's protection against fire will reach such proportions that the insurance rates will be lowered to normal.

New Hardware Firm.

Reynolds & Shell is the name of the new hardware firm at 421 Macdonald avenue, W. I. Besson having retired from the business, his interests in Sonoma county requiring his attention, among which a fruit ranch will be the attraction. Messrs. Reynolds & Shell are good business men, thoroughly acquainted with the hardware business and will no doubt receive their share of patronage.

Files Petition.

Nomination papers were filed by Thomas Thayer Saturday with the county clerk. He is a candidate for the office of commissioner on the municipal water district board. Thayer is spoken of as especially qualified to serve as a member of this commission, owing to his familiarity with plans, cost of construction, etc.

100 Years Old.

John Acta, one of the earliest settlers of this section of California died Wednesday night at San Pablo. Acta had been living at the home of Ben Montoya, and followed the occupation of farmer.

Fly High—Buy a Kite.

Kite season is here. The Terminal Stationery Store, 618 Macdonald avenue, has a large assortment of the latest models manufactured by a professional kite-maker. Prices from 5c up.

City Briefs.

The safest—vaccination.

The schools of Richmond were closed Tuesday in honor of the memory of the late Wm. F. Belding. Postmaster Jenkins has installed collection boxes at different points in the city, a great convenience to the public.

The Typographical union last Sunday elected B. E. Stotts of Martinez president to succeed H. B. Weise.

Mr. Rodgers, formerly of Richmond, real estate broker of Modesto spent a few days in the city the past week on business.

The Richmond Terminal was the first newspaper in Richmond to carry the union label, the "little tamale," the insignia of unionism. W. J. Lane presided at the installation exercises of Richmond Parlor of Native Sons Wednesday night. A big banquet followed.

The new telephone directory has gone to press, and it is too late for new names. The new county line territory will require two new operators for Richmond, adding another unit to the switchboard.

F. E. Lawton, alias F. E. Riley charged with passing forged checks was taken in Monday by Policeman Munday. Lawton was taken to San Francisco and was arrested on a description sent out from that city.

District Attorney A. A. McKenzie, accompanied by his niece, Miss Nora McKenzie of Concord, are visiting the old homestead in Ontario, Canada, and are enjoying the winter sports of the icebound region.

City Architect Ogborn was complimented for good service by the city council last Monday night by raising his salary. This is a substantial way of rewarding merit, and Mr. Ogborn deserves the honor.

D. A. Knowles made the speech of the evening at the banquet given by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce the other night. Dan put a big "R" in Richmond, and the applause he received could have been heard distinctly in Richmond.

The brotherhoods of the Methodist churches of Richmond had some notable speakers here this week, prominent among whom Rev. Henry F. Ward of Chicago, Rev. F. L. Talbot and District Superintendent E. S. Huttenpillar. The Valentine social entertained by Mrs. George Gerrard to the ladies of Wesley M. E. church Wednesday afternoon was enjoyed by a jolly crowd of women. The musical program was excellent. Mrs. E. M. Ferguson, Mrs. C. S. Gibson and Miss Flavera assisting. Married—At Calvary Presbyterian church, San Francisco, Rev. William Rader officiating, Miss Anna Jones of Richmond, to Mr. J. J. Davis also of Richmond. The happy couple are spending the honeymoon in the Southland.

The D. J. Gavin real estate company, 314 Macdonald avenue, have their real estate offices conveniently arranged and are reporting some good transactions. Mr. Gavin is one of the old timers in Richmond, and has established a good business by following the rule of being on "the square," the company's slogan.

A gold medal will be contested for in a speaking contest to be held in the Christian church tomorrow night. Among those who will compete are: Mildred Truitt, Rosie Little, Anita Ferguson, Orene Trotten, Mark Wilson and Velma Keaton. Those for lesser honors: Chester Lilly Ruth and China Causey, Guy Wilson, Ivy Lee and Norman Woodford.

The women of the W. C. T. U. held an interesting meeting Tuesday and discussed the proposed legislation regarding the abatement of the white slave traffic. The meeting was held in the First Christian church, and a substantial basket lunch was served. Prominent speakers were in attendance, among whom were Mrs. G. A. White, Mrs. W. A. Jones, Mrs. Jos. Nicholl and Mrs. Frank Warford.

Key Route Busy With New Lines

Richmond and San Jose Extensions to Be Built Without Further Delay.

Special Correspondence Richmond Terminal.

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 31.—The Key Route has signed up the required rights of way for its route from Oakland to San Jose, and as soon as the tunnel work, affording an outlet from Oakland, is completed, the construction of a roadbed and the laying of ties through lower Alameda county into the Santa Clara valley will be started. This activity on the part of the Key has caused a brisk movement in real estate along the proposed route through the attractive Santa Clara valley on the east side of the bay. This section promises to be thickly populated within a few years.

The Key is also extending their Albany line to Richmond, and in a few weeks the road will be constructed, if present indications are a criterion. This line will be extended from its present terminus at Gilman street, Albany, east of and adjoining the Santa Fe, and will parallel the latter northward one-half mile to the county line, thence northwesterly to Richmond, clipping off the corner and circuitous route followed by the San Pablo avenue street car line, shortening the run into the central portion of Richmond by several minutes.

Fatal Accident.

While Michael J. Murphy, proprietor of the Golden West hotel, was examining a loaded revolver Monday morning, the weapon in some manner was discharged, the bullet penetrating the brain, death resulting several hours later. No one knows how the accident occurred, as the gun was not at 10 o'clock, some time afterward. Murphy was 62 years of age, a native of Ireland, and leaves a widow and four children. Funeral services were held Wednesday in San Francisco, from St. Joseph's Catholic church.

Labor's Convention.

Fred Heckman, business agent of the Contra Costa Building Trades Council and Fred Eggerth, secretary of the same body, have returned from Los Angeles where they had been attending the annual session of the State Building Trades Council as delegates. They report a most enjoyable time. The unions of Los Angeles entertained the visiting delegates by providing excursions to different parts of the country about Los Angeles. A grand ball was given in honor of the delegates the night of the convention.

Chance to Make a Hundred.

The New Richmond Land Co. is making an offer that will attract some of the story writers, those of the descriptive turn, who can picture the attractions of the harbor and the beautiful boulevard to be, (Cutting) that will parallel the bay shore and split the McClure property recently acquired by the above company. Two hundred and fifty words are allowed in the contest to cover the argument, and it is said some of the best writers around the bay will contest for the prize of $100.

Collision on Bay.

On account of the dense fogs this week several serious accidents were narrowly averted on the bay, the Piedmont and Newark smashing into each other off Yerba Buena Island Wednesday morning. A near panic followed, but the crews succeeded in quieting the passengers and the vessels found their slips without any casualties, the damage being slight.

Visit Stockton.

Last Saturday night a delegation consisting of 30 members of the local lodge of Knights of Pythias journeyed to Stockton over the Santa Fe to attend the initiation of a class of 13 members into the Stockton lodge. A banquet followed, and a royal time was enjoyed.

William F. Belding, Beloved Citizen, Dead

Richmond's Pioneer and Public-Spirited Citizen Passes Away at His San Pablo Home.

William Forsyth Belding, Sr., notable pioneer, banker, merchant and highly respected citizen, after a long illness, passed away early Monday morning at San Pablo, at the age of seventy-two, leaving a wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Belding, and son, William Belding, Jr., to mourn his demise. In all his dealings the deceased was honorable, aggressive and upright and a resident for over a quarter of a century at San Pablo and had a statewide reputation for honest dealings with his fellowmen.

His organizing spirit is attested by his works. His successful career, as a merchant led to his organizing the Bank of Richmond, Richmond Union High School, Mc Kinley Lodge of Masons, the old chamber of commerce of Richmond. His son, Wm. F. Belding, Jr., has managed successfully the affairs of his late father for several months.

The funeral was private from the chapel of a local undertaker on Macdonald avenue, a simple service by Rev. C. S. Linsley of Trinity church. The floral offerings were elaborate. The following pallbearers escorted the remains to Sunset View cemetery: John H. Nicholl, W. Stairley, John Nystrom Harold III's, J. H. Rumrill and B. B. McLellan.

Passing of Pioneer.

Captain W. H. DeLangton, for a number of years connected with the California Wine Association, died Wednesday after a short illness. He was a native of Maine, and as a mariner came to California in '49. He is survived by one son, Geo. DeLangton.

School Funds.

The substantial sum of $14,364 was transferred to the county treasury Tuesday, by the city auditor of Richmond, the above amount being Richmond's apportionment of the annual levy for municipal and county taxes. The school district will draw upon the county for this amount as required. Richmond has expended $150,000 the past year for school buildings, and two new buildings are still required owing to the rapid growth of the city. Richmond has a state wide reputation for her fine school buildings, and the broad and generous system in establishing them when needed.

Must Show Credentials.

The requirements of the school children to show their vaccination certificates is being rigidly enforced in Richmond and all bay cities. There is considerable friction in Berkeley, where the antis refuse to take proper precautions against contagious diseases. The sane and sensible way is to follow the advice of our best physicians and be vaccinated.

In Honor of His Father.

Dr. W. E. Cunningham gave a dinner at his residence on Tenth street Friday in honor of the visit of his father, John Cunningham of Madera, who is visiting here. Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. Cunningham, Misses Viola and Charlotte Treanor, Miss Liersch, Dr. Reid, F. S. Newsom and John Cunningham.

Time Is Up.

The time limit for those persons who wish to register for the election for commissioners for the new water district has expired, but those who were eligible to vote at late presidential election can vote at the Feb. 27th election. There are a number of candidates, and the contest will be interesting.

Frank Thole and daughter, Mrs. Emma Foster, have returned from a visit to Los Angeles.

The charges against Rev. Dr. Horn were dismissed. Horn was re-arrested and taken to Redwood City to answer a charge of bigamy.

YOUNG TURK ACTION HALTS PEACE

Seizure of Government Delays

Great Activity Among the Fleets of Powers Reported Form Mediterranean Ports

Constantinople, Jan. 24.—Nazim Pasha, Turkish minister of war and commander-in-chief, was shot and killed last night by Enver Bey and Talaat Bey, leaders of the Young Turks, who overthrew the cabinet and seized the reins of government. The slayers say they were fired at by Nazim's aid-de-camp from a window of the Sublime Porte's palace and that they returned the volley. The bullets hit Nazim, who was standing beside his aid.

The tragedy occurred before a cheering crowd, gathered to hear the reading of a proclamation naming Mahmud Shevket Pasha as grand vizier and announcing the downfall of Kiamil Pasha and his cabinet.

There is every indication that the assassination of Nazim was an important part of a plot to seize the government and force resumption of the war.

London, Jan. 25.—Great activity among the fleets of the powers is reported tonight from several Mediterranean ports. Italian, British and other warships are reported to have been ordered to proceed at once to Turkish waters and the Russian fleet is awaiting orders under full steam at Sebastopol. A resumption of the war in the Balkans seems inevitable.

Rome, Jan. 25.—The government has ordered the cruisers SanMarco and Lisa to proceed to Benke, near the mouth of the Dardanelles.

London, Jan. 25.—Some days must elapse before the situation arising from the revolution in Constantinople is made clear. As far as may be judged, there is no intention on the part of the new Turkish government to force matters or to resume hostilities if any reasonable compromise with the Balkan allies is possible.

A dispatch from Constantinople tonight says the council of ministers sat today to discuss the reply they will make to the note of the powers, and it is believed this reply, while insisting on the retention of Adrianople by Turkey, will point to Thursday's demonstration as a real manifestation of the national will.

curry in nning the post of foreign minister. The portfolio has been offered several of the Turkish ambassadors abroad, but thus far all have declined it. Until the ministry is completed by the appointment of a Shiek-ul-Islam and a foreign minister, it is probable that no definite steps will be taken. Developments in the situation are awaited throughout Europe with the greatest concern, in view of possible active intervention by Russia.

The Balkan delegates to the peace conference in London show no desire for precipitate action. They have accepted the advice of the ambassadors of the powers to await the reply of the new Turkish government to the ambassadors' note before forming any resolution as to their future procedure.

Opinion among the delegates in regard to the situation is divided. Some maintain that it is useless to wait longer in view of developments at Constantinople, which are considered eloquent proof of the attitude of the new ministry. Others take the view that it is impossible for Enver Bey to be taken seriously.

ACTION OF GRAND COUNCIL THAT LED TO UPRISING

Constantinople—The action of the grand council of the empire in practically yielding to all the demands of the allies as upheld by the note of the powers to Turkey, was the immediate cause for the uprising of the Young Turks at Constantinople and the overthrow of the government.

As officially announced, the grand council "approved the government's point of view, declared its confidence in the sentiments of equity voiced by the great powers and expressed their wish to see their promises and proposed assistance effectually realized. It also asked the government "to exert all its efforts to insure in the future the safety of the country and the development of its economic interests."

The question submitted to the grand council by the Turkish government was: Should the recommendations contained in the note of the European powers be accepted or rejected?

The government frankly confessed itself in favor of agreeing to the suggestion made by the powers.

The note handed to the Porte on January 17th by the European ambassadors at Constantinople called the Ottoman government's attention to "the grave responsibility it would assume if by resistance to their counsels it should prevent the re-establishment of peace. It would only have itself to blame if the prolongation of the war should as a consequence put in question the fate of the capital and perhaps extend hostilities to the Asiatic provinces of the empire."

The document continued that "in that case the Turkish government could not count on the success of the efforts of the powers to preserve it

LINCOLN AND BURNS

Lincoln and Burns were kindred spirits in their tenderness though one was so much stronger than the other in moral muscle. There was the Scotch plowman sorry to uproot the mountain daisy and scatter the field mouse's nest; sorry to scatter the water fowl from the dimpling Loch; heart-wounded when he saw the wounded hare; and walking at night in the whirling snowstorm, thinking of the "ourie cattle and silly sheep," and the "wee, helpless," cowering birds.

There was the Illinois woodsman with his hundreds of unrecorded sympathies, for he left no poems to tell them. No one will ever know how often he scorned a chance to rob a nest or bring down with his gun a feathered mate; of how often, instead of the thought of cruelty, there fluttered over his rough face that look of tender understanding which always came when wood creatures or men were at his mercy. The boy Lincoln had argued, "An ant's life is as sweet to it as ours to us," and, as his first incensed boy speeches had been against cruelty to animals, now, as a man, he would stop to hunt up a nest from which two young birds had fallen because he could not have slept otherwise; or pull a pig out of the mud "to take pain out of his own mind."

These stories are more important than they seem, because they point to Lincoln's greatest life work—the setting at liberty those that were bound. Had the New Salem grocer never felt, as he did, the little pains of little things, it is hardly believable that he would have shared the great pain with that immensity of suffering.—From Adrienne Gilbert's "More Than Conquerors" in February St. Nicholas.

GOVERNOR NAMES SUCCESSOR TO STATE MINERALOGIST

San Francisco—Acting under an opinion from Attorney General U. S. Webb, Governor Johnson discharged State Mineralogist W. H. Storms of Berkeley, whose full term expires November 25, 1915, and appointed in his stead Fletcher M. Hamilton of Berkeley.

Although the state mineralogist is appointed "for four years," he also is appointed "until his successor shall qualify," and the attorney general held that this confers upon the governor the power to name such successor at his pleasure.

The governor's action followed publication of the report of the state board of control, declaring that the state mineralogist's office accomplished "nothing of value" and was generally in a bad way, and a statement from Storms charging among other things that the governor tried to unload unsatisfactory assistants upon him.

WIFE'S GOOD CONDUCT WILL HELP HUSBAND HOLD JOB

New Haven, Conn.—Orders have been given by the New Haven railroad for its employees to be friendly with their wives, being warned the company regards the family man as more feeble than the single man who lacks ties and stability. The wives also will be watched, and those who dissipate their husband's earnings and get on the blacklist for not paying their bills will get their husbands into trouble. The staid married man, linked to a wife of industrious habits, will be selected for promotion in preference to men of sporting inclinations or whose wives show adverse traits.

Several employees were warned that unless they had less trouble at home they could not be regarded as safe to handle trains. A recent accident on the New Haven railroad was caused by the carelessness of an engineer after a quarrel with his wife.

WORLD SAID TO FACE SERIOUS WOOL SHORTAGE

Chicago—The world faces a serious shortage of wool for the first time in modern history. The populations of all nations are growing much faster than the general meat food supply, and the high prices paid for spring lambs for four years has caused a decrease in the wool clip out of all proportion to the demand. The total wool production of the United States in 1909 was 347,623,400 pounds; in 1912 it was 297,457,385 pounds. Decrease 50,136,015 pounds.

Norway's Cabinet Quits
Christiania—The Norwegian cabinet under the premiership of General J. K. M. Bratlie has resigned owing to its defeat at the general elections last October.

from the danger against which they had already warned it and which they once more warned it to avoid."

The powers then called the attention of the Ottoman government to the fact that after the conclusion of peace it would have need of the moral and material support of the powers to repair the evils of war, to consolidate its position at Constantinople and to develop its vast Asiatic territories.

The note pointed out that the Turkish government could count on the efficacy of the benevolent support of the powers only so long as it deferred to their counsel, inspired by the general interests of Europe and Turkey.

The powers then advised Turkey to consent to the cessation of Adrianople and to leave to them the fate of the Aegean islands.

World Compact of Steel Men Admitted by Corey

New York—William Ellis Corey, former president of the United States Steel corporation, a witness in the federal suit to dissolve the corporation under the Sherman anti-trust law, furnished the government with the first testimony it has been able to obtain in support of its allegation that the corporation participated in an international steel pool.

Corey followed Theodore Roosevelt on the stand after the latter had repeated his testimony given before the Stanley steel investigation committee concerning the acquisition of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company of the corporation at the time of the panic of 1907.

Colonel Roosevelt, after reiterating that he had given his sanction to the deal "to save the country from disaster," and after he had been asked if he had heard various reports about the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, including one that the United States Steel corporation within a year previous had had experts examining the property, declared that "not one thing could have been known to me about that company that would have altered my action."

Colonel Roosevelt was examined at his editorial offices by Jacob M. Dickinson, former secretary of war, chief counsel for the government in this case.

Fowler Outlines New Currency Reform Plan

Washington—Former Representative Charles N. Fowler of New Jersey outlined to the house currency reform committee his suggestions for the revision of the monetary system. He proposed that all national banks be authorized to do commercial, savings and trust company business, and make note issues as Canadian banks do; that all "holding companies" of banks be prohibited, and that all banks be compelled to carry the same amount of reserve, always in gold.

All banks should be under federal control, he contended, as banking was interstate business, and that clearing houses should be established at all financial centers to be designated as commercial zones, under the management of boards of control elected by the banks. A bankers' council to act as a court of appeals for each one composed of business men and bankers, he also proposed. A deputy United States comptroller would preside over each board.

By having all banks in the United States contribute from seven to ten percent of their deposits to a central reserve, Mr. Fowler estimated, a gold reserve of upward of $1,250,000,000 would be created, to be held in trust for all the commercial zones and its distribution in times of need be controlled by a board chosen from all the zones. Such a plan, Mr. Fowler told the committee, would enable such an organization as he outlined to control the movement of gold to and from the United States and enforce a discount rate for gold transactions.

His chief results, he said, would be to make each bank independent; to make each zone independent of another and completely decentralize all bank credit in the United States.

United Farmers of Canada Urge International Peace

Calgary, Alberta—The United Farmers of Alberta are for universal peace. They are opposed to war and much against Canadian naval policies, whether they emanate from either of the great political parties. They would have Canada lead the world in the great disarmament movement, and so declared in an anti-naval resolution which was adopted by an overwhelming vote just before adjournment. In all the 600 delegates there were but twelve dissenting votes to the resolution, which was in part as follows:

"Resolved, That this convention of delegates, representing 14,000 farmers of Alberta, places itself on record as firmly opposed to any expenditure whatever of public moneys for the consolidation of naval armament, but is decidedly in favor of Canada encouraging to the utmost the movement toward international peace and disarmament and the settlement of international difficulties by arbitration, such as is proposed by the United States."

Thousands Flee from
ERUPTION OF COLIMA

Guadalajara—The volcano of Colima has broken into violent eruption. Thousands of people are fleeing from the villages and ranches in the vicinity. It is believed there has been some loss of life in the remotest districts.

Hundreds of refugees arrived here on a train composed of box cars, which had been picked up on a siding near the volcano. The fleeing people had found it necessary to shovel away a quantity of volcanic sand before they were able to move the cars, and for many miles en route here the train had to be stopped frequently to clear the track of debris.

Very little lava was ejected from the crater, which, however, emitted vast quantities of smoke and sand, with suffocating gases.

A gale was blowing from the northwest and this probably saved many inhabitants of the surrounding districts, as it caused the flying sand and deadly gases to pass over their heads. The activity of the volcano decreased during the night, but much volcanic dust settled on the streets of this city.

The station agent at Zapotitlan abandoned his post during the night, after reporting that volcanic sand covered the tracks in places to a depth of several feet.

Vermont May Change Election Date

Montpelier, Vt.—Vermont, called for years the political barometer of the United States, soon may lose this distinction. The legislature has adopted an amendment to the constitution which provides that state elections be held in November and the legislature meet in January. In the past the elections have been held in September. The voters will be asked to decide on the amendment at the next election.

Invisible Airships Soon

Washington—A secret transparent material to be used in the construction of aeroplanes is foreboded in admissions made by Major Edward Russell, in charge of the aeronautic division of the war department, and is expected to make the invisible aeroplane a reality.

Brief Pacific Coast News Items

Seattle, Wash.—The executive board of the State Federation of Women's Clubs has set the date for the annual convention, to be held at Ellensburg, for June 17.

Olympia, Wash.—Representative Goss has introduced bills to abolish capital punishment for murder and treason. The murder bill restricts the pardon of first-degree convicts by the governor.

Fresno—With only about 1000 votes cast, the thirteen amendments to the city charter were defeated by majorities ranging from two to one to three to one.

Washington—Paul T. Carroll of the San Francisco chamber of commerce was elected one of the twenty-five directors of the chamber of commerce of the United States.

Olympia, Wash.—In the senate a bill has been introduced to have the state make powder for the benefit of the small land owner who is clearing his place of stumps.

Washington—Secretary Meyer has decided that one or two new fuel ships should be built at the Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco. It has not yet been decided at which yard the other is to be built.

Stanford University—The Carnot debate between California and Stanford speakers will be held one week prior to the intercollegiate track meet of April 9. The subject this year is "France and Republicanism."

Stockton—Seventeen ranches situated in the San Joaquin valley, aggregating 4512 acres and valued at $223,000, are disposed of in a decree of distribution which Judge Frank Smith has just signed in the estate of Mary P. Fairbanks.

San Francisco—The Association of Collegiate Alumnae has voted to hold its 1915 meeting in San Francisco. The association has a membership of about 8000 of the most prominent college women in the United States.

Stockton—County Health Officer Peterson, after investigating conditions at the county jail, states that the place is overcrowded and that a new jail should be built. He found 102 men in the jail, when the accommodations are for only sixty.

Sacramento—There are too many bachelors, says Rev. S. Frazer Langford, pastor of the First Baptist Church of this city. He says that every young man fit physically and mentally should join the ranks of benefactors before reaching the age of thirty.

San Francisco—City and County Treasurer John McDougald has turned over to the Panama-Pacific Exposition $533,599 in gold coin as the first installment on the municipal bonds that have been sold for exposition purposes.

Sacramento—John G. Fletcher of Oakland has been appointed by Governor Johnson a member of the board of trustees of the state mining bureau, succeeding A. H. Ward, whose term expired in December, 1911. Ward had been holding office pending the appointment of his successor.

Washington—The Presidio Golf Club of San Francisco may be able to play on the Presidio links after February 1, the date fixed for their abandonment. General Wood has intimated that the links might be kept open under rules fixed by the war department, providing application is made.

Lindsay—Central California orange orchards are free from all manner of insect pests. This statement is made on the authority of J. H. Horton of the bureau of entomology United States department of agriculture, who has been stationed here in investigation work for the past several months.

San Francisco—The preservation of the old customs house at Monterey, over which the stars and stripes were first raised in California on July 7, 1846 by Commodore John Drake Sloat, is sought in a bill by Senator A. E. Campbell of San Luis Obispo. Campbell asks for an appropriation of $3500.

Washington—In order to protect consumers and to prevent the flooding of the markets with oranges and lemons declared unfit for food, the federal board of food and drug inspection has issued an order forbidding the sale in interstate commerce of fruits which have been damaged in the recent freeze in California.

Salem, Or.—The legislature has confirmed Harry Lane, Democrat, United States senator from Oregon. In the November election Lane received the highest popular vote, although the legislature is heavily Republican, only three legislators, one in the house and two in the senate, voted against the people's choice.

Martinez—Fred E. Brooks, former constructing engineer for the Oakland-Antioch railroad, has filed application for franchises for two electric roads in Contra Costa county. This is taken to indicate that the Southern Pacific or the Santa Fe intend entering the electric line transportation field in competition with the Oakland-Antioch road.

$25,000,000 For Good Roads

Washington—The first meeting of the joint congressional committee on federal aid in the construction of post roads was presided over by Senator Bourne of Oregon, and those heard were W. W. Finley, president of the Southern railway; Alfred Noble, civil engineer of New York, and G. W. Cooley, state engineer of Minnesota. President Finley expressed the belief that an appropriation of $25,000,000 would be enough to initiate the policy.

Really an Old Term.
"Cheese" in the sense of impudence is an old term. The earliest quotation in Sir James Murray's dictionary is from Captain Marryat (1840). But it has lately been found in the sixteenth century records of Galway, in the west of Ireland. The municipal rulers of that fighting city—the "men from Galway" has become proverbial for pluck and readiness to defend the hottest of corners—decreed that any person giving "cheese" to the mayor should "forfeit 100 shillings and have his body put into prison."

EVERY WOMAN WILL BE INTERESTED.

Good Story.
"An Englishman, a Welshman and a Scotman once paid a visit to Ireland. On their return they brought back with them mementoes of their trip. The Englishman brought a tobacco pouch with 'God preserve old Ireland' on it; the Welshman brought a mug with 'A present from Dublin' on it; but the Scotman brought a knife and fork each with 'London & Northwestern railway' on it."—The Diners Out Vade Mecum, by Alfred Miles.

Brittleness of Glass.
Brittleness of glass is due to the quick cooling of the hot substance. It is known that constant motion tends to rearrange the molecule in any substance and a similar effect is observed when glass is heated in a weak solution of salt in water and allowed to cool gradually. The toughness of the glass is increased very much and the effect of quick heating is less disastrous to it.

Really Strange.
"Didn't I see your daughter with a strange young man last night?" "You certainly did. He certainly is a strange young man!"

Wanted to Die Naturally.

BASEBALL

There will be no deal for Hauser, shortstop of the St. Louis Cardinals. Catcher Drummond of the Vernon club was bought by the Boston Braves. Jake Stahl's trouble is he has to carry 200 pounds on a pair of long legs.

The Baltimore International league team will train at Fayetteville, N. C., next spring.

Otto Miller, the first string catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, may be sent to Nashville next season.

Peter Kelly has not made any final arrangements to go to the St. Louis Nationals as secretary of the club.

Moxie Manuel, the ex-Southern league pitcher, recently was married to Miss Mamie Shaw of Danville, Ill.

One baseball expert in Washington says if the Senators land Devlin they will play Eddie Foster at second base.

Pat Flaherty, formerly a Southern league player, has landed a job as manager of the Lawrence (Mass.) team.

The Louisville Colonels have passed up the Cubs as a source of playing material and will try to hook up with Pittsburgh.

Christy Mathewson is working as earnestly at his insurance business this winter as he does at baseball in the summer.

HORSE RACING

"Pop" Geers has put 27 trotters in the 2:10 list, adding 5 during the closing season.

Ralph Wick, 2:13 1/4, one of the veteran trotters of the country, is being trained for the Canadian ice circuit.

Young Sweet Marie, by Bingen, Sweet Marie, is at Lexington, where she will be given her lessons by Roy Miller.

A Sydney, Australia, dealer recently shipped twenty-five well-bred geldings to the International Race Club at Shanghai.

Evelyn W. is giving Lady Maud C. a hard pace for the honor of breaking the greatest number of records held by pacing mares.

Elkwood park, near Long Branch, is mentioned as the place New York horsemen will hold a grand circuit race meet next year.

Amy, 2:17 1/4, that Cox was forced to win a heat with at the Michigan state fair, will figure in the Cleveland matinees next season.

Racing stands so well at Hartford that a new grand circuit stand and other improvements are to be made to the old Charter Oak park.

Pretoria Mc, 2:12 1/4, has done most of her racing on the two-lap oval, but will stick to the big rings next season, as Lon McDonald now has her in his collection at Indianapolis.

SKATING

At a meeting of the executive board of the Western Skating association at 174 West Washington street last night the following officials were announced for the season of 1913:

Racing board—Carl Carlson, chairman; William A. Hackett, Harry Hargrove, Roy E. Davis, Lester Johnson, Hugh Baker, William C. Faehe, H. H. Erlant, M. W. Leedy, Dr. M. J. Letimer, Peter Backer and S. Huseby.

Registration and membership—Julian T. Fitzgerald, chairman. The remaining members of this last committee to be chosen at the next meeting of the executive committee, which will also choose fifteen governors of state bodies, twenty standing committees and outside boards. It was announced that a schedule would be revised this winter, and that a schedule would shortly be issued for the many clubs that have sent in requests.

PUGILISM

Law Gowney of Detroit outpointed Billy Hughes of Canada in an eight round bout at Flint.

Jack Britton of Chicago easily outpointed Frankie Nelson of Hoboken in a ten-round bout in New York. Britton punished Nelson in every round after the fourth.

Al Kubick of Philadelphia was awarded the decision over Carl Morris of Oklahoma at the end of their ten-round bout at Atlanta, Ga. Kubick landed two blows to Morris' one, but none of them seemed to seriously inconvenience the Oklahoma.

WRESTLING

Zbyszko, Polish wrestler, who recently arrived in this country from Europe, is booked for several bouts in the principal cities in the United States and Canada, but says he will cancel any or all engagements if Frank Gotch will meet him for the championship of the world.

TENNIS

It is estimated that since the offering of the Davis cup the contesting nations have spent more than $1,000,000 on the tennis matches waged for its holding. As the America's cup is to yachting and the Westchester cup is to polo, it is emblematic of the highest tennis honors in the world.

The Cincinnati Reds have purchased Pitcher Rudolph from Toronto.

AQUATIC

The rowing committee of the University of Pennsylvania will retain Coach Ward until his contract expires at the close of the approaching season.

His Majesty, King George V of England, was elected an honorary member of the New York Yacht club at the meeting of the club. Dallas B. Pratt was chosen commodore, succeeding C. Ledyard Blair.

Edward Harms, commodore of the Peoria Yacht club, has received a telegram from President E. S. Osborn of the Western Power Boat association, stating that Peoria had been awarded the 1913 regatta of that organization to be under the joint auspices of the Peoria and Illinois Valley Yacht clubs. The races will be run under the new rules laid down by the Peoria club, which were accepted by the association. The regatta will be held late in July or early in August.

Yale's rowing policy for next season has been outlined by Captain Snowden, who stated that Harvard probably would be the only opponent the Eli varsity would tackle. The annual race will be scheduled for June 19 on the Thames. Yale has never before received so many challenges.

Cornell, Pennsylvania, Princeton and Annapolis have sent invitations for matches, all of which Yale declined. Yale's determination to limit the crew to one event is due to the backwardness of the candidates in the English stroke. The second crew will be allowed to enter the American Henley races on the Schuylkill and the freshmen may again book Princeton for an early race.

FOOTBALL

Minnesota will meet Nebraska next year in football at Lincoln, the date to be determined later.

Students of the University of Pennsylvania are jubilant over the selection of T. Truxton Hart as head coach of the football squad in 1913.

The memory of the father of the English Association football league, the late William McGregor, is to be perpetuated in Birmingham by the erection of a drinking fountain.

The Prince of Wales, who is a student at Oxford, is a good association football player and is especially clever at long distance running. He also likes to play tennis.

Vincent Pazzetti, Lehigh's crack quarterback and football captain, is a candidate for the basketball team and gives promise of developing into one of the most capable performers of the team.

The Canadian Association football league has been admitted into membership by the International Federation. The Canadians plan to bring over two eleven from Great Britain next season to play a series of games.

In memory of the late Henry Schoelkopf, a graduate of Cornell university, who committed suicide in Milwaukee recently, and who was one of the greatest football players the university ever has claimed, a new training house on alumni field will be erected.

BILLIARDS

James Maturio will be the next opponent of champion Alfredo de Oro for the pocket billiard championship. The contest may be played in Cuba or New York, about December 16.

Joe Wood is not only a great pitcher, but probably the pool champion of the big leagues. Joseph is very little behind De Oro, Keogh and others in their class when it comes to the fifteen-ball game.

New York took the final game of the series from Kansas City in the National Billiard league three-cushion tournament, when George Moore for New York defeated Arthur Davenport of Kansas City by a score of 50 to 30 in 47 innings. Moore's high run was 5, Davenport's 6. The three-game series stood: New York, 2 games won; Kansas City, 1.

Clarence Jackson, twenty-two years old, seems to be the rising star in the billiard firmament. In a practice game at Chicago the other day he made his 500 points in six innings, an average of 83 1/3. His innings were 2, 28, 159, 64, 87 and 170. His final run of 170, unfinished, wound up with the balls still clustered and it looked certain that he would have been able to make the run 200 had the game not been over. His opponent scored only 5 points against him.

ICE BOATING

The two Long Branch ice boating clubs have elected officers for 1913. Capt. Charles L. Edwards is commodore of the South Shrewsbury club and Capt. Edward W. Reid of the Long Branch club, formerly the old Shrewsbury club. Both are boat owners. Commodore Reid having sailed Florence A. for a number of years and Captain Edwards the Ray.

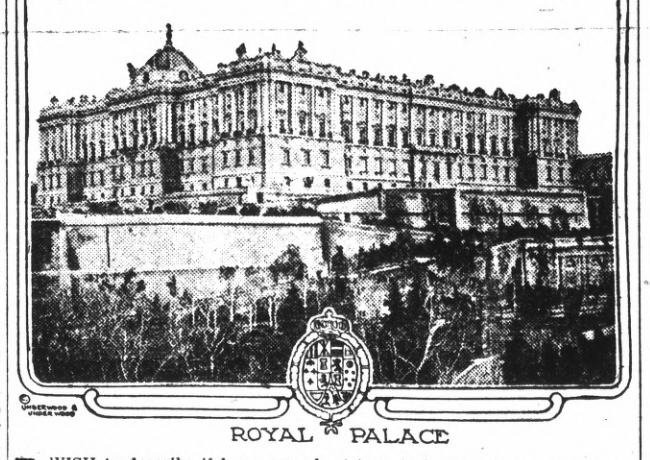

The two clubs have about 400 members enrolled, including not a few New York, Newark and Philadelphia summer cottagers, who annually spend several weeks at the shore during the ice boating season. The big attraction, one that has held the center of the stage for years, is the Board of Trade cup. It is now held by the Long Branch club. The trophy has been going the round, first one club and then the other, for the past eight years. It must be won three times in succession before it can be claimed.

TENNIS

No Rest for Him There.
Three o'clock on a cold, foggy autumn morning.
The weary cyclist was lost—lost in a trackless wilderness of moorland. As he pedaled wearily on his breath came in short, sharp gasps. He was nearly done! The ghastly silence oppressed him.
Ah, a light!
The sight revived him and he rode quite briskly up to the lonely little cottage and knocked loudly on the door.
"Here I shall get at least food and drink and perhaps a bed," he was telling himself gleefully, when an upstairs window was thrown open.
"Whadder want?" came a husky, sleepy voice.
"I'm a weary traveler—" he began.
"Then travel!" retorted the husky voice. The window banged. All was again silence.—London Answers.

Life in Old Madrid

ROYAL PALACE

I WISH to describe if I can one of the most interesting features of life in Madrid, a feature peculiar to Madrid among all the cities of the world as far as I am informed.

It is a long way in life about short in distance from Prado to the Rostrado. The extension of the Prado into the Paseo de Castellana leads one to the part of the city where flats give place to detached dwellings and where mansions are seen that match in grandeur almost anything seen along Riverside Drive in New York, writes George W. Burton in the Los Angeles Times.

Not only the houses in this part of Madrid are grand, but the equipages are as fine as may be seen anywhere, and the horses exceed anything I ever beheld in horse flesh. The teams are well matched, and the animals stage 14 to 16 hands high, each hand representing nearly 100 pounds of finely-put-up horse flesh and gone. They are, taking them all in all, the finest, rangest animals in the world.

The heads and ears are small, the neck long and arch, holding the head high without painful hitching. The fore shoulders are high and so are the haunches, the back straight. The fore legs are straight as a whip stalk, the chest is deep, the haunches and thighs are powerfully muscled, and the bodies are round as a barrel.

Seen on Sunday.
The Rastro is not along the Prado, and no splendid turnouts are seen there. The street is in the center of the city, a short walk from the Puerta del Sol. It is a narrow street surrounded with old houses, begins in an alley and ends in two which fork into still narrower alleys farther on. The English name for the peculiar institution that has its home there is the Rag Market. Sunday is the day to see it. The people who carry on their trade in the Rastro are there every day in the week in small numbers, but Sunday the whole place, 1,000 feet long, by 50 feet wide, is packed so densely that one makes his way through the throng slowly and with much difficulty.

To present a general view of this motley gathering in picture is impossible. It must be taken bit by bit, analyzed carefully. As one enters the long, narrow street a mass of humanity, men, women, boys, girls, decrepit age and tenderest youth, moves about in an interminable maze beginning nowhere or everywhere, as you may please to see it. The ground space is encumbered with big baskets filled with all kinds of what we call in America "garden truck" and fruits. In and out play women, each with half a dozen to a dozen fat chickens hung around their necks, tucked under their arms, and held in any way convenient for the moment. Eggs, game, anything the poor may have to sell, is here, and here the poor come to buy. If one gets there about noon there may be seen a peasant woman who has sold her basket of cabbage, cauliflower and lettuce, and has turned the debris out on the ground. At once this is pounced upon by some poor wretch of a woman who has not a centimo to get a little something to eat. She bends down and takes about the leaves of the vegetables and picks out every bit that is in any way possible of cooking. Each scrap is put in a bit of a basket, in her apron or in a leaf of an old paper, or in an old box. One is irresistibly reminded of a hen in the yard scratching for a tid-bit from the kitchen.

Just beyond the vegetable market the booths are reached where other wares are on sale. The first may be a shoe store, if you please. But it is something that no one who reads this letter ever heard of. All days and weeks men, women and children range the streets and pick up anything that promises a cent of gain. No old shoe is too poor to be passed by. These are taken to the Rastro in on Oxford undergraduate life, says that the afternoon at Oxford is given over to athletic exercise. Hardly a half-dozen undergraduates in the college will be found at work between these hours. Games for physical development and the genuine sport of playing them—here an English idea that is worthy of being adopted in American colleges as the system of examination by subjects. No matter how immaculate the status of the athletes, there can be no doubt that American college athletics have been sadly "professionalized" at the expense of a willingly subservient majority.

Joyous Route.
Seductively put to sleep by orange blossom extract, the most unimagined woman can clearly distinguish a bridal chorus, even visualizing the matron of honor's gown and all the other stage properties to go to set the birthday festival of every woman's life. Etherized by orange blossom, if the woman should, one, could Paradise be approached by a route more essentially feminine?

Stops Backache

Sloan's Liniment is a splendid remedy for backache, stiff joints, rheumatism, neuralgia and sciatica. You don't need to rub it in—just laid on lightly it gives comfort and ease at once.

Best for Pain and Stiffness
Mr. G. BUCHANAN, of Welch, Okla., writes:—"I have used your Liniment for the past ten years for pain in back and stiffness and find it the best Liniment I ever tried. I recommend it to anyone for pains of any kind."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for sprains, strains, bruises, cramp or soreness of the muscles, and all affections of the throat and chest.

Got Entire Relief
R. D. BURGON, of Maysville, Ky., RR. 1, Box 5, writes:—"I had severe pains between my shoulders; I got a bottle of your Liniment and had entire relief at the fifth application."

Relieved Severe Pain in Shoulders
Mr. J. UNDERWOOD, of 2000 Warren Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:—"I am a piano polisher by occupation, and since last September have suffered with severe pain in both shoulders. I could not rest night or day. One of my friends told me about your Liniment. Three applications completely cured me and I will never be without it."

The scent of the perfumed burglar has been lost.

With the recent copious rains, California is assured bumper crops.

The city council of Richmond permanently settled the garbage question with San Francisco. Richmond is not soliciting that kind of filling.

Why are the real estate dealers almost unanimously opposed to the single tax?—San Pablo subscriber. Answers from real estate men are respectfully solicited.

Postoffices will soon be equipped with automatic stamp selling machines. This innovation will dispense with stamp clerks except at the wholesale windows.

William Jennings Bryan within the past month has purchased several valuable tracts of orange grove property in Florida. On one of the land purchases he expects to erect a palatial winter home.

The going astray of the official report of the Richmond harbor data addressed to the war department at Washington, was the first time on record of an official communication of this character being lost.

Popular Mechanics for this month contains a description with an illustration of the proposed suspension bridge spanning the bay from San Francisco to Oakland, the estimated cost of which is $25,000,000.

Mr. Archbold has surely lost his goat along with Lorimer and the rest. The recall punishment is mild compared to being forever prohibited from serving one's country in an official way.

The service rendered the patrons of Richmond's postoffice has greatly improved. With additional help Postmaster Jenkins will still improve the service. It is simply a question of how much help Uncle Sam allows our Sam.

The question now arises, How is Los Angeles going to square her self with the crop of eastern tourists in regard to the late freeze? Some of the winter visitors down there are writing "fierce letters" to the newspapers back home.

Los Angeles has had a scare about their coming water supply from the Owens river project. Too much irrigation for commercial purposes has polluted the water to the extent that several extra millions will have to be expended to overcome the deficiency in the plans.

The club women of Richmond are wide awake to the situation as it now confronts the mothers of boys and girls of the present generation. At a meeting of the club Monday afternoon resolutions were adopted asking Contra Costa's representatives in the legislature to support the red light district abatement bill. The bill is known as the Iowa plan and prohibits the renting of property for immoral purposes.

Berkeley's troubles are becoming more complicated, smallpox and cats being the latest affliction. The police have been given orders to wage war on the feline colony, and North Berkeley cats are being rapidly exterminated by the deadly "bark of the 22" in the hands of the festive cop. It is stated that the midnight marauders carry the dread disease and pass it along to other cats, thereby completing an endless chain of distribution.

Chief of Police Arnold's original and novel method of preventing hookworm spreading in the city battle among the prisoners is to be commended, also highly recommended to other towns. Able-bodied transgressors of the law are given the sawback and saw, something to remind them of boyhood days, and told to get busy, as the poor and needy of the city are short of fuel. It does not take a great deal of persuasion on the part of the chief to impress the recalcitrants that it is far better to saw wood than to have the bill of fare cut. Consequently, the railroad ties are being artistically reduced to stove lengths for the "poor folk."

SOCIAL HYGIENE

The Bureau of Social Hygiene, with headquarters in New York, organized in 1911, is making a thorough and comprehensive study and survey of the conditions of vice in New York City. This survey covers not only houses of prostitution, Raines Law Hotels, disorderly saloons, cafes and restaurants, massage parlors and other places where vicious persons congregate, but also the personal histories of some 2000 fallen women. The bureau comprises some of the most eminent men connected with the medical schools in this country and Europe. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is a member, and devotes much of his time and means to make the bureau a success in this great work. The spirit which dominates this work is not sensational or sentimental or hysterical; it is essentially a spirit of constructive suggestion and of deep scientific as well as humane interest in a great world problem.

Berkeley is in the throes of a smallpox scare. The schools have been closed and the vaccination of children has commenced on a large scale. If it isn't one thing, it is another, with Berkeley.

Richmond high school is foremost among the progressive educational institutions of the state. The school is under a progressive management and is up to date.
